

MISSIONARY HIGHLIGHT: October 7

Nikki Kirby
PICAYUNE, MISSISSIPPI

Today we want to pray for one of our missionaries who has an interesting ministry. Keep in mind our church supports her work through our Cooperative Program giving.

Nikki Kirby lives in Mississippi, but she travels all over the United States to lead Lay Renewal events. Lay Renewal ministry aims to revive a church by ministering directly to the laity; it is often a weekend event. The goal is for lay people in the church to become more focused on God's leadership and more involved in ministering for Him.

A whole team of lay people will visit a church, sharing their testimonies about how they are serving in the church. Churches who sponsor a Lay Renewal weekend usually become more energized toward service and involvement in kingdom-focused ministries.

Nikki often leads teams on renewal weekends in faith-based drug and alcohol rehab centers around the country. They have seen lives restored because of God's grace.

Let's pray for Nikki and the many who work in Lay Renewal ministry. North America's need for the gospel is so great that we need all our churches active and figuring out how to serve Jesus more.
